

YOUR CALL TO ACTION

What you can do to support girls and young women in the criminal justice system

- 1 Call for a fully resourced cross-government Young Women's Strategy, that is trauma-informed, and puts the voices of girls and young women with lived experience at its centre.
- 2 Advocate in your networks for the needs of young women, to make sure they are included as a distinct group in policy, practice and funding decisions at all stages of the criminal justice system.
- 3 Raise awareness and share the Young Women's Justice Project on your social media pages.

If you are moved to do more, please get in touch with us: policy@weareagenda.org
